Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine

Department of Pathology Presents

The Department of Pathology at Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine seeks a full-time non-tenure-eligible Clinician-Educator at the rank of Assistant, Associate or Full Professor. The primary responsibility will include shared service rotation within the Clinical Immunology Lab of the Northwestern Memorial Hospital Laboratories. It is expected that the successful candidate will have other areas of expertise within Clinical or Anatomic Pathology Divisions, such as Clinical Chemistry, Transfusion Medicine, Hematopathology, Microbiology, Renal Pathology or others. In addition to clinical responsibilities and research, faculty are expected to play an active role in teaching and training medical students, residents, and fellows.

Qualified candidates will hold an MD, or MD/PhD degree. Candidates should be trained and Board Certified in Clinical Pathology (CP) or Anatomic and Clinical Pathology (AP/CP). Rank and remuneration are determined by qualifications and experience.

The start date is negotiable, and the position will remain open until filled.

When applying, please upload a CV and cover letter describing your interest and alignment with the position.
